Product Description

GYXTC8S Fiber Optic Cable Internet 2 4 6cores Frop Ftth Outdoor Cable Single Mode Products Description

GYXTC8S Fiber Optic Cable

In the GYXTC8S cable, a 250 μ m fiber is embedded in a tube constructed from a material with a high modulus, filled with a hydrophobic compound. The tube is then encased with a plastic-coated steel strip (PSP) that runs in a longitudinal direction. To ensure the cable is compact and has longitudinal water-blocking properties, a water-blocking substance is intercalated between the steel strip and the tube. The cable also contains a steel strand that is arranged in an octagonal shape, all encapsulated within a polyethylene sheath.

Features:

- 1.The cable's steel wire strand is endowed with a very high tensile strength, facilitating overhead self-supporting installation and reducing the costs of installation.
- 2.It has good mechanical and temperature stability.
- 3.The loose tube material is inherently resistant to hydrolysis and is strong.
- 4.The tube is filled with a special grease to ensure the fiber's protection.
- 5.The double-coated steel strip (PSP) increases the cable's resistance to moisture.
- 6.It has a small diameter and is light, making it easy to lay.
- 7.It is available in long lengths and is priced at a low cost.
