GYFTS53 Fiber Optic Cable Outdoor Cable GYFTS53 Direct Buried Underground Cable

Product description

At the nucleus of the GYFTS53 fiber optic cable is an FRP rod that serves as its reinforcing member. The cable's core is meticulously wound with a loose tube and filler rope to achieve a compact, round form, with water-blocking filler occupying any voids. A longitudinally wrapped plastic-coated steel strip is then encased in a polyethylene sheath. The cable is completed by the longitudinal wrapping of a double-sided plastic-coated steel strip, which is also extruded with a polyethylene sheath.

Product Details

Product Features Displays outstanding mechanical resilience and temperature tolerance. Houses a durable, hydrolysis-resistant loose tube. Contains a proprietary compound for fiber optic integrity. Protected by a polyethylene sheath that shields against UV exposure. Offers exceptional crush resistance for duct and direct burial. Anchored by a single steel wire as the central strength element. Filled with a special compound critical to fiber optic preservation. Fully packed to eliminate any internal voids. Equipped with a water-blocking tape to avert vertical descent
